Socioeconomic and Environmental Development Program

Economic Empowerment	24
Environment and Climate	26
Peace and Social Cohesion	28

The program aims to improve communities' socioeconomic life. It focuses on supporting SMEs and improving social services and infrastructure in rural and urban areas.

It also aims to promote community participation and cooperation between institutions and the community to achieve sustainable development.

The program includes community development through economic empowerment, which provides training, education and technical support for SMEs, improves health, education and infrastructure services in remote areas, and supports women and youth to increase their economic opportunities.

It also includes support to government actors in developing policies and actions that promote local development and improve quality of life in communities.
